

Kenneth Webb: White Noise

November 19th to December 23, 2005
Opening Reception: Saturday, November 19th from 2-5pm

Kenneth Webb studied at the Alberta College of Art in Calgary and attended the Royal College of Art in London, England for post-graduate studies. He has taught at the University of Calgary and is currently a permanent faculty member at the Alberta College of Art & Design. Webb has shown with John Ramsay Contemporary Art in Vancouver, Paul Kuhn Gallery in Calgary, Mira Goddard in Toronto and in numerous international exhibitions. Ken's work has been published in "Hidden Values, Contemporary Canadian Art in Corporate Collections" (Robert Swain), "Printmaking in Alberta: 1945 – 1985" (Bente Roed Cochran) and "Sitelines, Printmaking and Image Culture" (Walter Jule). In 2002, Kenneth Webb received the Award of Excellence from the Alberta College of Art and Design.

"white noise" is a term used to describe the masking or overlayng of sound to minimize or block out other sounds. This exhibition of work reflects on the desensitizing of photographic image and the process of filtering or interference. Initially these images were constructed as digital files and re interpreted into paintings. This work incorporates printed photographic images, graphic elements and the handmade painted object.
